

Carol Sauvion

Craft in America

Monday, January 11, 2010

10:30 am

Main floor of the Museum

$65 per person

We are honored to have Carol Sauvion, executive producer of the Peabody award winning and Emmy nominated PBS series Craft in America, join us for our first lecture of the season. Carol brings a unique view of art and the artist to us through her experience as a gallery owner and television producer.

From her travels across America, Carol has encountered master glass blowers, weavers, painters, potters and a multitude of other studio craftsmen who bring art to life. Carol will be joined by co-author of the companion book to the television series, Jo Lauria, and featured weaver, Jim Bassler. Signed copies of the book will be available from our Museum Store.

This lecture will be held on the main floor of the art museum. Please enter through our main doors. Valet parking will be available for this luncheon only. We encourage you to bring a friend to this one-of-a-kind lecture.

General Information

Lecture Luncheons

- You must be a MAC member to attend. You are welcome to bring up to four guests.
- Reservations must be made through our box office by calling 325-4490 or by faxing the order form on the back of this flyer to 322-3246.
- Sorry, no refunds or exchanges.
- Seating is NOT reserved for either the lecture or the luncheon.
- We ask you check in prior to being seated for the lecture.
- Valet parking will be available for our January lecture only.

Enrichment Excursions

- Trips will be open to MAC members only. You are welcome to bring one guest. If space is still available prior to the trip it will be opened to other museum councils and general museum members.
- Sorry, no refunds or exchanges.
- An itinerary will be sent to you a few weeks prior to the excursion. The bus will pick up guests at The River and the Palm Springs Art Museum.
- The bus for our day trips will be a full-size bus with restroom.
- Taxes and bus driver gratuity are included in trip price.

Please call the MAC office at 760.322.4844 or email smaddux@psmuseum.org with your questions.

Susan Stein

The Art of Fashion

Monday, March 8, 2010

10:30 am

Annenberg Theater

$65 per person

With more than 30 years of experience in the fashion and retail industry, Susan Stein knows the art of fashion. As a professor of the History of Costume at the Fashion Institute of Design and Merchandising in Los Angeles, Stein offers us a look at the history of fashion in art. From the opulence of Renaissance garb to the Warhol pop influence of the 1960's, Stein discusses how fashion has influenced art and how art has influenced fashion.

Stein also held the position of Fashion and Public Relations Director for Saks Fifth Avenue in New York and Connecticut. She is presently the Fashion Editor at Palm Springs Life and the producer/Director of Fashion Week El Paseo in Palm Desert.

Mumsey Nemiroff Great Art Patrons & Scholarship Awards

Monday, April 26, 2010

10:30 am

Anneberg Theater

$65 per person

Don't miss our final lecture of the season! In honor of the MacMillan collection displayed at the museum throughout the season, Mumsey Nemiroff takes us back to the Renaissance to discuss the complicated relationship between great patrons of the arts and the artists they supported. We'll explore the relationship between the Medici family and Michelangelo, the Sforza family and Leonardo da Vinci and others. You may find that some of the greatest works of art came about from some of the most contentious relationships.

One of the most rewarding aspects of MAC are the scholarships we award to deserving high school seniors. Add to that everyone's favorite lecturer, Mumsey Nemiroff, and you have a terrific luncheon.

MAC Enrichment Trip

The Underground Art of L.A.

Wednesday, February 17, 2010

Cost: $95 per person

Residents of Los Angeles have extraordinary art around them — provided they know where to look! Join us for a remarkable tour of public art and architecture in Los Angeles' underground stations. This journey takes us below the city for a marvelous docent led look at the art installations of the Los Angeles Metro system. Noted architects and artists have brought their unique talents to these beautiful public spaces. Please note this tour includes extensive walking and comfortable shoes are essential.

Before we board the train, we'll lunch at Traxx Restaurant in Union Station. Located in the historic depot, Traxx offers a menu sure to suit your palate as its credits include being named "caterer of the year", and kudos from Gourmet, Food & Wine, The Los Angeles Times and NBC news.

As a final treat we will visit the Freehand Gallery owned by Carol Sauvion, producer of Craft in America, for a wine and cheese reception. Freehand Gallery is filled with unique art treasured hand selected by Carol and her staff. Looking for more? A host of other interesting shops are just steps away from the Freehand Gallery! Join us for a day filled with unexpected art treasures in public places.

Seating is limited! We encourage you to make your reservation as soon as possible.

James Doolin, station design artist
Anne Marie Karlsen, station mural artist
The Tanzmann Associates, architects